FYS Community Badges

Award badges to your classmates when they perform above-average feats of creativity and/or critical thinking or simply pose interesting questions that challenge and/or inspire you or otherwise impress you in some way. You can only award each badge once per module and you must support your vote with evidence (one or two sentences explaining how your classmate earned this vote).

Examples of Badge Vote:
- Sally Smith earned the Nightwing badge for overcoming her aversion to slugs to create an interesting infographic including pictures!
- John Doe earned the Iron Man badge for his inventive creation of hand drawings to illustrate his blog post.
